2-SEAT SPORTS CAR WITH A 7-FOOT TRUNK.

Two-seat sports cars are fine...if all you travel with is driving gloves and sunglasses.

But if you like to bring your toys when you go places, take this two-seat sports machine. Its 7-foot trunk holds a dirt bike, a snowmobile...almost any payload up to 1100 pounds.

And inside, the Toyota SR5 Long Bed Sport Truck really is outfitted like a sports car. With bucket seats. Big, blacked-out gauges. Even an AM/FM/MPX stereo radio. All standard.

Start the 2.4 liter 4-cylinder overhead cam engine and the sports car feeling gets even better. You've got power-assisted disc brakes up front. A sporty 5-speed overdrive transmission. Or you can order Toyota's innovative 4-speed automatic overdrive.

And one more thing—mileage you wouldn't expect from a sports car! The Toyota SR5 is rated at 31 EPA Estimated Highway MPG, (23) EPA Estimated MPG. Remember: Compare this estimate to the EPA "Estimated MPG" of other small trucks. You may get different mileage, depending on how fast you drive, weather conditions, and trip length. Actual highway mileage will probably be less than the EPA "Highway Estimate."

DR. JERRY BUSS

In 1979 Jerry Buss purchased the Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Kings, The Forum and a ranch for $67.5 million, the largest transaction in American sports history.

In the ensuing three years, his Lakers have won two world championships, and while the Kings have roller-coastered, their performance in last year's Stanley Cup playoffs has given rise for great optimism.

Buss tends to apply scientific thought processes to just about everything he does. He first determines his objectives — what does he want as an outcome. In his mind, this should be a specific objective with specific goals. Once goals and objectives have been set, he applies hard work and a belief in the future as the means to accomplish the desired results. His perspective is that luck plays a minor role in outcomes. He believes that what some people call luck is really the result of setting goals, working hard, and believing in the future: or in the case of "bad luck," the absence of these three skills.

Jerry Buss' first entrance into the sports world as an owner was with the purchase of the Los Angeles Strings in the early 1970's. He describes his heavy investment and ultimate losses as "basically a high-price college where we paid some heavy tuition to gain some education."

And, that education is serving him well in his operation of the Lakers and Kings, which he owns outright. The Forum and Market Square Arena in Indianapolis are owned by limited partnerships of which he is a general partner.

The Buss family also owns the Los Angeles Strings in the restructured Team Tennis league and the Los Angeles Lazers, a new Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) franchise. Daughter Jeanie heads up the Strings and son John operates the Lazers.

Buss looks at all his ventures as investments, and he believes they should not only be lucrative, but should also be fun.

Despite the fact that he has been divorced for a considerable length of time, his family is most important to him. He married Joann while they were both college students, and she is as regular an attender of Lakers and Kings games as Jerry. To this day he calls her "my best friend."

Their four children, John, 26, Jim, 23, Jeanie, 21, and Janie, 19, are all actively involved in business pursuits with their father.

His lifestyle is casual — the opposite of his business philosophy. He approaches the non-working times of his life with the same energy he gives his teams, and he enjoys both greatly.

But, with the fun and the games, there is in his mind great responsibility that comes with wealth. He gives large measures of his time and resources to many community serving causes. He is most concerned with those organizations which serve education, help the young and the elderly as well as the racially and culturally disadvantaged.

Jerry Buss was born Jan. 27, 1933 in Kemmerer,Wyoming, a small sheep ranching and mining town. When he was a year old, his parents were divorced, and his mother supported the two of them by working as a waitress. Wanting more for herself and her young son, she started attending night school after her day job to become a bookkeeper. His mother's belief in the benefits of education and her example had a positive influence on his educational pursuits. He believes that "education gives freedom" and freedom is one of the most important things in his life.

Buss started his work career at age 12, as a pin setter in a bowling alley. He also worked in a hotel where he earned 20 cents an hour plus tips as a shoe shine boy.

While attending the University of Wyoming on a scholarship, Buss worked in the cafeteria and as a chemist for the government, from midnight to 8 a.m. three days a week. He earned his undergraduate degree in only two and one-half years, with a double major in chemistry and mathematics. Upon graduation, he moved to California and the University of Southern California, where he had a Fellowship. He received a Ph.D. in Chemistry, while supporting himself by tutoring and selling tickets at the Coliseum.

Shortly after graduation from USC, he went to work in the aerospace industry and taught nights at his alma mater. The former he found creatively stifling because of its regimentation, and the latter was extremely enjoyable, but financially unrewarding.

In 1958, he and engineer Frank Mariani found, among other common bonds, a mutual desire to improve their economic status. Utilizing their scientific training, they researched the real estate business for a full year. While doing so, each put aside $83.33 per month until at the end of the year they had $2,000 for their leap into the world of business. Armed with several thousand additional dollars from relatives, they talked a banker into a loan and purchased a 14-unit apartment building in West Los Angeles.

Not only were they now landlords, they also became gardners, plumbers, carpenters and painters in an attempt to reconcile costs and revenues. Today, Mariani-Buss Associates is a multi-hundred million dollar real estate business with property throughout California and holdings in Arizona and Nevada.

BILL SHARMAN

Bill Sharman is only the second man in NBA history to win championships in three capacities — as a player, a coach and a general manager. Now, as president of the Lakers, he is seeking a championship from a fourth perspective.

During last season's playoffs, Dr. Buss announced that he was elevating Sharman to the position as the team's president, from where he will oversee all aspects of the Lakers organization. He has also become involved in other aspects of California Sports, such as vice-president of the Los Angeles Lazers, the new Forum-based indoor soccer team.

But, make no mistake about it, Bill's first priority is the Lakers, and with good reason.

"Bill's been incredible," said Dr. Buss. "His knowledge of the league is so vast. What really impresses are some of the things he takes into considerations before making a deal."

It was Sharman who engineered the trade with Cleveland that gave the Lakers the No. 1 pick in 1982 college draft, which they used to select North Carolina's James Worthy.

Bill had a distinguished 11-year playing career in the NBA, ten of which were with the Boston Celtics. During that decade the Celtics won four World Championships, five division titles and never suffered a losing season. Sharman averaged 17.8 points per game and shot 43% from the field and an amazing.884 from the foul line. In playoff competition he was even better, averaging 18.5 points and hitting 91% of his free throws in 78 games.

His name still dots the Celtics record book as the team's top foul shooter for ten straight seasons. and his jersey, number 21, hangs in the Boston Garden.

Seven times Bill was named to the All-NBA team, and eight times he played in the All-Star Game, being named MVP in 1955. He was named to the NBA's Silver Anniversary team, symbolic of the best players in the league during its first 25 years, and in 1976 was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame at Springfield, Massachusetts.

Bill continued his championship success as a coach. In 1962 he guided the Cleveland Pipers to the American Basketball League title: in 1971 his Utah Stars won the ABA crown, and in 1972 he coached the Lakers to their first World Championship since moving to Los Angeles. He also established in that season the NBA standard for wins in a row (33) and victories in a season (69).

He started his NBA coaching career with the San Francisco Warriors (1966-68), where, in his first season, he took his team to the NBA Finals, and his second year went to the division finals. His all-time NBA coaching record is 333-240, a .581 winning percentage. Four times in seven seasons in the NBA his clubs finished the regular season in first place.

Bill was born in Abilene, Texas on May 25, 1926. He moved to Lomita, Cal. with his family when he was an infant. He starred at Porterville HS, where he earned 15 letters competing in four sports; football, baseball, track and basketball. He was honored as the Outstanding High School Athlete in California in 1944 and won the state amateur singles tennis championship while still in high school.

SHARMAN (Cont.)

After serving in the Navy for two years, Bill became an instant starter as a freshman at USC in both basketball and baseball. In two years at Southern California (48-49 and 49-50) he did not miss a single free throw. Despite being a two-time All-America basketball player for the Trojans, Bill signed a bonus contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers organization to play baseball.

Although he never did appear in a big league game, he was on the bench when Bobby Thompson stroked his historic home run giving the Giants the National League pennant in 1951. But Bill decided to concentrate full-time on basketball having joined the Washington Capitals in 1949, going to the Celtics in 1950.

Bill has four children, and in his spare times retains his athletic stature by playing golf, tennis and volleyball. Bill and his wife, Joyce, live in Rolling Hills.

JERRY WEST

Jerry West was named Lakers general manager when Dr. Buss promoted then-general manager Bill Sharman to team president. And why not? If Tommy Lasorda bleeds Dodger blue, then Jerry West surely bleeds Laker purple and gold.

Jerry joined the Lakers in 1960 after a brilliant career at West Virginia University and retired a Laker, in 1974, as one of the greatest players in the game's history.

He later coached the Lakers from 1976-79 and his record was just as sparkling: his first team compiled a 53-29 record, the best in the NBA in 1976-77, and his other two teams also qualified for the playoffs.

He tired of coaching after three seasons and spent the next three years as a special consultant to Dr. Buss, with his primary responsibility scouting college players.

In his 20 years as a Laker player, coach and consultant, one thing remained constant: the team made the playoffs every year.

Now, Jerry West has a new role to play in the Laker organization and he's looking forward to it.

"I'm excited about the challenge," said the 44-year-old West. "This organization has been very good to me and with the talent we have, there's no reason why we shouldn't continue to be one of the strongest teams in the league."

West finished his remarkable NBA career as one of just — at that time — three players in history to score over 25,000 points and is the games' sixth all-time scorer with 25,192. He has the fifth highest career scoring average in history — 27.0 — and is also the second all-time leader in free throws made (7,160), sixth in field goals made (9,016) and fifth in assists with 6,238.

One of only three Lakers ever to have his number retired, West was just as brilliant in playoff competition. In 13 playoff years (he missed one with an injury), West ranks as the league's all-time leading scorer with 4,457 points, and his playoff scoring average of 29.1 ranks second.

His nickname of "Mr. Clutch" was never more apparent than during the playoffs. Two of his most memorable playoff accomplishments were in the 1964-65 playoffs when he averaged a remarkable 40.6 points a game, and the 1970 playoffs when he sank a 60-foot shot with no time remaining to send a Lakers-Knicks game into overtime.

In his 14 seasons he led the team in scoring nine times, assists ten times, and foul shooting nine times. He is the all-time Lakers leader in scoring, assists, field goals made, free throws made and minutes played.

In 1969-70 he led the league in scoring, averaging 31.2 points per game. In 1971-72 he led the league in assists with 747 and after the all-defensive team was established in 1968-69 he was named to the first team four times.

The awards and honors that West has won for his brilliance on the court are records in themselves. He was selected to play in the NBA All-Star game for 13 consecutive years — no player has ever been chosen more times. He was selected to yearly All-Star teams 12 times — 10 first and two seconds — another record that has yet to be bettered.

Despite playing on a losing team he was MVP of the 1969 NBA playoffs, and also was MVP of the 1972 All-Star game played at the Forum.

Jerry was a member of the 1971-72 Lakers team which won the World Championship and also set a NBA record with that incredible 33-game winning streak.

In April 1980, Jerry was inducted into the NBA Hall of Fame.

Jerry was born on May 28, 1938 in Cheylan, West Virginia. He became a high school standout at East Bank HS, where he led his team to the state championship in 1956, averaging 32.2 points. That year he became the first high school player in West Virginia history to score over 900 points in a single season.

West went on to West Virginia University where he set 12 school records, graduated with 24.8 career scoring average and was twice named an All-American. He was the Lakers first pick in the 1960 college draft.

Jerry also captained the 1960 United States Olympic Basketball team which won a gold medal in Rome, and played on the championship United States team in the 1958 Pan American games.

He and his wife Karen reside in Pacific Palisades.

PAT RILEY

Pat Riley had a solid, if not spectacular nine-year career as an NBA player. The same can not be said of his coaching career.

Riley replaced Paul Westhead as the Lakers coach on Nov. 19 and the team promptly won 11 of its next 13 games, establishing the momentum that led to its second NBA championship in three years. Under Riley's leadership, the Lakers finished the season winning 50 of their final 71 games. Add on the Lakers' 12-2 run through the playoffs, and his record stands at 62-23.

"I really haven't made any great changes," he explained. "Oh, I use more substitues. I have also given the players the freedom to use their natural instincts in fast break situtions."

Pat's ascendency to the Lakers head coaching position was a circuitous one, to say the least. He retired from playing in 1976, but soon realized he missed the game. He returned as Chick Hearn's broadcasting partner, when, in Nov., 1979, Laker head coach Jack McKinney was seriously injured in a bicycling accident.

RILEY (Cont.)

Assistant coach Paul Westhead replaced McKinney as the head coach and, while waiting for a plane at the Denver airport, asked Riley to join him on the sidelines. Since then, Pat's led the life of Riley.

"I had had a good basketball career, but I always wondered what kind of coach I would be. I missed the game my first year out, but now I am on the right road. The whole experience of moving from the broadcasting booth to the sidelines has been a great one for me and something I would do all over again without hesitation."

A large part of Pat's responsibility is the organization of the team's audiovisual operations. The Lakers tape every home game and have the ability to show via videotape a play at halftime which gave the club difficulties in the first half.

"The last thing we want to do is bury the players with this. We realize the entire effort is wasted if the players don't accept it. The kind of visual recognition it can provide us with at a crucial time is invaluable. Everyone can see visually what happened and what went right or wrong.

"Eventually, I think videotape will become the primary scouting tool because it is more cost efficient, rather than simply an aid to personal scouting as it is now."

A nine-year NBA veteran as a player, Pat spent five years with the Lakers. In 1971-75, he averaged nearly 8 points a game while alternating between a starting and third guard assignment.

His best season with Los Angeles came in 1974-75 when he was a starting guard the first third of the season and one night tossed in 38 against New Orleans. He averaged 11 points that season before being forced to the bench with injuries.

Riley was the number one draft choice of the San Diego Rockets in 1967, having just completed four years at the University of Kentucky, where he led the Wildcats to the NCAA Championship game as a junior. He was the team's MVP in each of his three seasons and was the Kentucky captain as a senior.

A native of Schenectady, New York, the 36-year-old Riley lives with his wife Chris in Brentwood.

BILL BERTKA

When Pat Riley asked Bill Bertka to assist him in early December (1981), he knew he was talking to a highly-respected man with an immense background in coaching and scouting, but he couldn't have expected the immediate dividends he received.

It was Bertka who first planted the seed in Riley's mind about installing the pressure, trapping defenses which served as a catalyst to the team's late-season drive.

Bertka, 55, is widely known in both professional and college basketball circles for his scouting ability and his knack for evaluating talent. He owns and started the most successful college scouting service in the country, known as Bertka Views.

While Bertka Views is now operated by his wife, Solveig, Bill maintains access to more scouting reports on college talent than anyone else in the United States. Bertka Views has been used by some of the most successful college basketball programs in the country as their exclusive scouting service.

And don't think that Bertka's reputation is not shared by the players. "Bill's a fiery guy and he gets us ready to play," offered Magic Johnson. "He's a good coach and he helps us out a lot. He gives us experience."

"I never really considered anybody else," said Riley, about his mini-search for an assistant. "Bill Bertka was the one I wanted all along."

Bill began his career in the NBA with the Lakers in 1968, serving as chief scout and director of player personnel for six years. He helped form the Jazz organization when it joined the NBA in 1974, and remained with the team in several capacities (general manager, director of player personnel, assistant coach) until he rejoined the Lakers last year.

Bill graduated and played for Kent State University in Ohio. He played professional basketball in the old National Industrial Basketball League, before beginning his coaching career at Hancock College in Santa Maria, California. From 1954-57 Bertka's Hancock teams compiled a 97-13 record, including a 42-game winning streak, and a California Junior College State Championship in 1957.

Bertka left California in 1957 to take the head coaching job at his alma mater Kent State. While at Kent State from 1957-61, he turned the basketball program into a major college level program.

DAVE WOHL

Dave Wohl is the latest addition to the Lakers braintrust, replacing Mike Thibault, now an assistant coach with the Chicago Bulls.

Prior to joining the Lakers, Wohl served as an assistant to Milwaukee Buck coach Don Nelson since the 1979-80 season, and before that, was an assistant under Kevin Loughery with the New Jersey Nets.

Recruited by the University of Pennsylvania to play football, the East Brunswick, N.J. native turned his attention to basketball, where he led the Quakers to a 53-3 record and NCAA Tournament berths his final two seasons, in addition to receiving All-Ivy League honors.

The Philadelphia 76ers made Dave their third-round selection in 1971 and, as a rookie, he trailed only Billy Cunningham and Hal Greer on the team in assists. He later played for Portland, Buffalo, Houston (scoring his career high of 29 points) and finally, New Jersey, where he retired in 1979.

Dave was named coach and general manager of the Philadelphia Fox of the Women's Basketball League in the fall of 1979, but the team folded its operation in December. Wohl then planned to coach in Yugoslavia, before the Bucks sought his services.

The Lakers were 49-7 this past season when they led or were tied entering the fourth quarter, which included a 28-3 mark at home and a 20-4 mark on the road. Of the Lakers four road losses when they led entering the fourth quarter, one came at Philadelphia and the other three all at Golden State. The Lakers were just 8-18 on the year when they trailed entering the fourth quarter, but seven of those eight wins came on the road. The Lakers won just one of nine games when they trailed entering the fourth quarter at home.

JACK CURRAN

Jack Curran's resume reads like a sports page: NHL hockey, NASL soccer, professional baseball, and, or course, NBA basketball.

The 49-year-old Massachusetts native is beginning his 13th season in the NBA and fifth as trainer for the Lakers.

As trainer, Jack's responsibility is the physical well-being of the team. He's usually the first one in the locker room before a game or practice, providing treatment to help prevent, or heal, any injuries. He's often the last to leave, too, after providing post-game or practice treatment.

But Jack's duties don't end with his medical responsibilities. He also serves as the team's traveling secretary, making all travel arrangements (hotels, flights, transportation once the team gets where it's going) and practice schedules. When you consider that the Lakers will make 19 road trips and travel more than 125,000 miles, before the playoffs, you realize that that's a full-time job in itself.

Prior to joining the Lakers, Jack served as trainer for the Cleveland Barons of the NHL, the Seattle Sounders of the NASL and the Richmond Virginians, a former AAA affiliate of the New York Yankess, as well as the Seattle Supersonics.

Jack's favorite pastime is international trap, which he shoots in tournaments all over North America. He hopes one day to try his luck on the Grand Prix circuit in Europe.

Jack and his wife, Kay, live in Carson.

CHICK HEARN

"He fakes his man into the popcorn machine."

"The mustard fell off the hot dog."

"Yo-yoing up and down."

For the 23rd consecutive season, Chick Hearn brings his unique and entertaining "words eye view" to Laker broadcasts. The iron man of the Lakers organization, Chick has broadcasted more than 1,900 of the team's games, and, amazingly, has a 1,500-plus consecutive game streak. Lou Gehrig watch out!

Although best-known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has covered virtually every conceivable kind of sports event: NCAA football, UNLV basketball, soccer, several PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine football game, Celebrity Tennis and Bowling for Dollars.

Hearn has been named National Sportscaster of the Year twice by his peers and has also been a recipient of a Golden Mike Award.

On March 20, 1981, the Lakers honored him with "Chick Hearn Night," and filled two scrapbooks with the hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams he received. One of them read: "You have repeatedly demonstrated excellence in sports broadcasting, setting new standards for quick, clear and objective descriptions of the play-by-play action. For all fans, but especially for young people, your fair-minded approach to basketball sets a fine example." — Ronald Reagan.

Hearn grew up in Aurora, Ill. and attended Bradley University. His real name is Francis Dayle Hearn, but was nicknamed Chick when, as an AAU basketball player, he opened a box of sneakers that had been given to him and found, instead, a chicken inside.

Chick headed west in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly sports show on the NBC affiliate in L.A., which won him two Emmy Awards in the '60s. He was also named California's top sportscaster twice.

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino.

KEITH ERICKSON

Keith Erickson surely felt right at home broadcasting last season's NBA championship series with Chick Hearn — during his 12-year career he played in five NBA finals and, at UCLA, played on two of coach John Wooden's NCAA championship teams.

Erickson joined Hearn behind the microphone when Pat Riley abandoned the broadcast booth to become the Lakers' assistant coach. Keith had previously served as a commentator for CBS-TV, USA Cable and ON-TV.

And don't get the idea that Keith is not as adept a broadcaster as he was a player: in a local poll, he was named the best color analyst in Los Angeles.

"Keith is one of the most thoroughly oriented basketball men I've ever been associated with," says Hearn. "He always has something important to add without redundancy. He's as good a professional basketball color analyst as the game knows."

Keith averaged 10 points a game during his career, which included stops in San Francisco, Chicago and Phoenix, as well as a 309-game tour with the Lakers. He was a member of the Lakers' 1972 championship team.

An excellent all-around athlete, Keith was a member of the U.S. Olympic team in 1964 — Olympic volleyball team, that is.

Keith and his wife, Adrienne, live in Santa Monica with their five children.

In 54 of 82 games last season the Lakers shot 50% or better from the field. The club was 43-11 in games in which they shot 50% from the field or better, and they were an ever better 26-4 (.867) in games in which they shot 55% from the field. The Lakers were 13-1 at home when they shot 55% or better from the floor and 13-3 on the road. The team was 14-14 in games they shot less than 50%.

KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR 33

Height: 7-2 Weight 235
Position: Center
Born: April 16, 1947
High School: Power Memorial (New York)
College: UCLA '69
Residence: Bel Air

Acquired in a trade with the Milwaukee Bucks following the 1974-75 season for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, Dave Meyers and Junior Bridgeman

1981-82: Kareem became the second-leading scorer in NBA history on Dec. 1 and his 28,088 trail only Wilt Chamberlain's 31,419 . . . other career milestones included becoming the 15th player to appear in 1,000 NBA games and the sixth in league history to log 40,000 minutes . . . finished the year ranked sixth in the league in scoring (23.9), fourth in field goal pct. (.579) and third in blocked shots (2.72) . . . typically, played his best ball down the stretch, shooting better than 50 percent in each of his last 19 games and 30 of the last 31 . . . scoring average was the second-lowest of his career, but field goal pct. was his second-highest . . . over the final 24 regular-season games, Kareem shot .603 from the floor and averaged 24.5 points per game . . . shot better than 50 percent against every team in the league but Washington and Atlanta, and made more than 60 percent vs. eight teams . . . NBA Player of the Week for week ending Feb. 28. Started that tear with 17 points in 26 minutes vs. Denver; then poured in 31 points vs. Seattle, 23 in the second half; followed that with vintage 41-point, 19-rebound salvo in double-overtime win over Philadelphia; capped the week with 32 points and game-winning skyhook with three seconds to play vs. Cleveland . . . in next two outings, had 30 points at New Jersey and 39 at New York, giving him five straight games with 30-plus points . . . led the Lakers in scoring on 40 occasions, rebounding 26 times . . . missed six games in December with strained ligaments . . . scored in double figures in all 76 regular season games, running his streak to 378 in a row, but was held to six points in fifth game of the championship series by Philadelphia, his first non-double figure postseason game in his career after 108 in a row . . . scored 20 or more points 56 times, 30 or more on 19 occasions . . . had season-high 20 rebounds vs. Indiana on Nov. 15 . . . had 27 games of 10 or more rebounds . . . averaged 27.1 points and shot .593 vs. Pacific Division foes . . . ranks sixth on Lakers' list of games played (544), third in minutes played (20,613), and third in points scored (13,879) . . . blocked 10 shots vs. Detroit on Jan. 22 . . . had nine offensive rebounds vs. New York on March 4, matching his Laker best . . . took three three-point attempts last year, one more than he had taken in his career previously . . . his 32 points in first game vs. San Antonio was Laker playoff best last season . . . one of 12 players in NBA history to have won a league championship on two teams (Milwaukee, 1970-71).

CAREER: Has won six league Most Valuable Player awards (71-72-74-76-77-79) . . . became the second-fastest player in NBA history to score 25,000 points, needing just 889 games to do so . . . Rookie of the Year in 1969-70 with Milwaukee and the league's second-leading scorer, averaging 29.9 . . . in addition to winning league MVP award the following year, he was named playoff MVP as Milwaukee swept the Bullets in the championship series . . . won back-to-back MVPs and scoring titles the following year, tossing in 34.8 a game, his career high . . . averaged more than 44 minutes per game and had 55 points vs. Boston in Dec. '81, still a career high . . . runner-up for MVP in '72-73, but won his third the following year, finishing third in scoring (27.0) and fourth in rebounding (14.5) . . . has averaged better than 26 points a game since joining the Lakers, and has added three more MVP awards . . . has been selected for the All-Star game 12 times and made the NBA All-Defensive team 10 times, five times as a first-team selection . . . credit Milwaukee announcer Eddie Doucette with labeling the hook shot Kareem has been throwing up since fourth grade the "skyhook" . . . has had 66 games of 40 or more points and 16 games of 25 rebounds or more . . . ranks among the active NBA career leaders in virtually every statistical category . . . leads in total points and field goals made (11,568) . . . is second to Elvin Hayes in games played (1,011), minutes played (40,567), field goals attempted (20,741), free throws made (4,952) and attempted (6,928) and rebounds (13,826) . . . is second to Nate Archibald in assists (4,308) and trails only Artis Gilmore in field goal percentage (.558) and George Gervin in scoring average (27.8) . . . is also fourth in fouls committed.

COLLEGE: Led UCLA to three consecutive NCAA titles (1967-69) and was the tournament MVP all three years . . . named College Player of the Year in 1967 and 1969, and was runner-up to Hayes in 1968 . . . the Bruins were 88-2 during his stay, as he averaged 26.4 points and was a three-time unanimous All-America . . . had a legendary high school career at Power Memorial . . . his teams went 95-6 over four years, including a 71-game winning streak.

PERSONAL: A practicing Moslem, his name was Lew Alcindor before he changed it in 1971 . . . Kareem means "generous", Abdul "servant for Allah" and Jabbar "powerful" . . . has more than 3,000 jazz albums, and an extensive collection of Oriental rugs . . . selected by the American Cancer Society as the outstanding basketball athlete over the past decade (1971-81) . . . recently cited as one of the "10 sexiest men" in America by Playgirl Magazine "for having a magic all his own" . . . Kareem, asked by Steve Springer of the Register if passing Chamberlain to become the game's all-time scoring leader would mean a lot to him, answered, "No. At this point, I've played on as many championship team's as Wilt had, and I've had to score as many points. Bill Russell is only 35th in scoring, and No. 1 as far as centers playing on world championship teams." . . . asked if his pro career has been as satisfying as he expected, Kareem answered, "I think it's been more than satisfying. I've managed to grow up . . . all the way . . . you know, as far as my emotional and social progress. And that's something I appreciate."

MIKE COOPER 21

Height: 6-7 Weight: 170
Position: Guard/forward
Born: April 15, 1956
High School: Pasadena (California)
College: University of New Mexico '78
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the third round of the 1978 college draft

1981-82: Mike is considered by many to be the finest sixth man in the NBA . . . his scoring average in both the regular season and playoffs have improved each of his years in the league . . . biggest improvement was in his jump shot, and his confidence grew with it . . . took nearly 90 more shots than the previous year, yet played nearly 500 fewer minutes — and his percentage soared from .490 to .516 . . . despite missing six games (four with an ankle sprain, two with a groin pull) Coop set career bests in virtually every offensive category . . . prior to last year, he'd never scored more than 20 points in an NBA game, and he'd scored 20 just twice. During one week in December he broke his personal scoring best three times, hitting, in succession, for 24 against San Diego, 26 vs. Atlanta, 26 vs. Portland and 30 vs. Phoenix. Coincidentally, the Lakers won all four games, and Coop made 44 of 74 shots (.595) . . . his best game was a nationally-televised battle with Boston, in which he did his usual solid job defending Larry Bird (5 for 14, 11 points), and knocked in 13 of 20 shots of his own for a career-high 31 points, 16 in the fourth quarter, to lead a succesful Laker comeback . . . tied for the second most votes on the All-Defensive first team, after receiving second team recognition a year ago . . . got off to a blazing start and was making 59 percent of his shots through the first 17 games and 57 percent through the first 31, and was the league's leading backcourt marksman for most of that period . . . his .516 was even more significant when you take into account that he slumped in January and February, making just 43 percent of his shots . . . led all NBA guards with 61 blocked shots, and his .813 free throw percentage led the Lakers . . . averaged 12.4 points and made .546 shots vs. the Pacific Division . . . scored in double figures on 49 occasions and led the team in scoring twice . . . scored consistently in the playoffs, hitting for double figures in 10 of 12 games, with a high of 18 in the fifth game of the championship series vs. Philadelphia . . . third behind starting guards Magic Johnson and Norm Nixon on the squad in steals.

CAREER: Would probably rather forget about his rookie year, when he tore a knee ligament in a summer league and spent the first two months of the season on the injured reserve list . . . came back for three games and a total of seven minutes before aggravating the knee injury and missing the remainder of the season . . . returned to the Lakers for the '79-80 season and played a major role in the team's drive to the NBA championship, playing in all 82 games . . . has earned a reputation as one of the game's premier defensive players, yet is also one of the most entertaining due to his remarkable leaping ability.

COLLEGE: Attended Pasadena City College, where he averaged 20.2 points as a sophomore before transferring to New Mexico . . . was a co-captain and second-leading scorer (16.1) at New Mexico his senior year, when he earned All-America honors by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association . . . his college scoring high was 29 points . . . New Mexico was 41-14 during his two years there.

PERSONAL: Coop is active with the NAACP and serves as New Mexico state chairperson for Sickle Cell Anemia . . . his marvelous athletic abilities are all the more significant when you consider doctors feared he might never walk again without a brace after a childhood accident left him with 100 stitches in his leg . . . "My goal is to give the people enjoyment," says Mike, "make sure they see something happen, give 'em something to talk about when they're on their way home. We've been called a circus and, while the fans come to watch the other guys, I show 'em my act. I'm just a sideshow right now, trying to get to the main tent."

CLAY JOHNSON 34

Height: 6-4 Weight: 185
Position: Guard
Born: July 18, 1956
High School: Manual (Kansas City, Missouri)
College: Missouri '78
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Signed with the Lakers in April, 1982

1981-82: Clay came a long way in the 1982 season — all the way from Billings, Montana . . . Clay and his Billings teammates were in Lancaster, Pa., preparing for a Continental Basketball Association playoff game last April when the Lakers called, needing backcourt insurance when Eddie Jordan was injured . . . Clay was signed to a 10-day contract, and then re-signed for the remainder of the season . . . is extremely quick and an excellent leaper, prompting some to refer to him as a "Michael Cooper clone" . . . had an immediate impact on the Lakers, scoring 14 points (6-for-6 from the floor) with six rebounds, four assists, one steal and two blocked shots in a 19-minute appearance vs. Denver in his second NBA game . . . appeared in the Lakers' final six regular-season games, and seven of eight after he joined the team . . . appeared in seven of the Lakers' playoff games for a total of 38 minutes . . . best post-season showing came in first game vs. Phoenix, when he made all of his shots and finished with six points in 10 minutes . . . had his best year in the CBA, where his scoring average rose dramatically in each of his three seasons . . . averaged 22 points per game (eighth best in CBA) last year with a 36-point salvo in Billings' 174-128 win over Anchorage . . . was second in the CBA in steals (2.3) . . . shot .537 from the floor and .681 from the line, averaging 5.4 rebounds and 3.8 assists for Billings, whose 32-14 record was second-best in the CBA.

CAREER: Clay was the Portland Trail Blazers' fourth-round selection in the 1978 college draft . . . played two years in the CBA prior to last year . . . shot .535 from the floor in his first CBA season, and made .692 of his free throws in each of his first two campaigns . . . has played for the Lakers' summer league team for the past two years, and was invited to training camp last year before being released on Oct. 13.

COLLEGE: Clay was a two-time Junior College All-America at Penn Valley JC in Kansas City . . . earned All-Big Eight honors as a junior and senior . . . led Missouri in scoring (17.2) and rebounding (7.7) as a senior.

PERSONAL: Clay is one of 10 children, joined by eight sisters and a brother . . . his family no doubt was thrilled when, the day after he signed with the Lakers in April, he appeared in a game that was nationally televised.

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (first overall) of the 1979 college draft

1981-82: Perhaps it was Julius Erving who summed up Magic's unique assortment of skills best when, after the sixth and final game of last year's playoffs, he said, "Magic is the only player who can take only three shots and still dominate a game," . . . though Magic was the team's fourth-leading scorer in the post-season, he was selected as the MVP of the playoffs for the second time in three years . . . led the Lakers in rebounds, assists and steals during the playoffs, and made 53 percent of his shots . . . his biggest rebound was the one he made from a knee injury which sidelined him for 45 games during the 1980-81 season . . . became the third player in NBA history to have 700 rebounds and 700 assists in the same season, joining Oscar Robertson and Wilt Chamberlain . . . led the NBA in steals for the second consecutive season (2.67) and finished second in assists (9.5) . . . led all guards in rebounding (9.6, 11th best overall) and field goal percentage (.537) . . . had his best season as a pro, setting personal bests for games played, minutes, field goals made and attempted, field goal pct., offensive, defensive and total rebounds, assists, steals and points . . . led the Lakers in assists, steals and rebounds during the regular season, too . . . had 18 triple-doubles (10 or more rebounds, steals and assists) and now has 30 in his three-year career . . . Lakers were 28-7 in games in which he scored 20 or more points . . . finished the season with 10 or more assists in nine of his last 12 games . . . started every game he played but one, Feb. 9 at Atlanta

. . . scored 10 or more points in 72 of 78 games, and hit for 20 or more 35 times . . . his highest-scoring game was 40 at Detroit on Jan. 9, when he made 18 of 23 field goals . . . had a career-best 18 assists Feb. 16 vs. Seattle and set a club record for offensive rebounds when he collared 13 in a March 21 win over Houston, breaking Happy Hairston's old standard by one . . . had nine steals vs. Phoenix on Nov. 6, the league-high for the season . . . had 40 games of 20 or more rebounds and 35 games of 10 or more assists . . . led the club in scoring 16 times, rebounds 33 times, assists 54 times and steals 40 times . . . in addition to the 18-assist game, he had one 17-assist outing, three for 16 and two for 15 . . . also had a seven-steal game and four games with six thefts . . . made 57 percent of his shots in Februray and March and shot .552 over the second half of the season . . . during a seven-game road trip through the midwest, which included the 40-point blitz in Detroit, he averaged 27.9 points, 11 rebounds, 7.5 assists and shot .558 from the floor and .800 from the line . . . entered last year's playoffs as the team's all-time leader in steals in post-season play and padded that total with 40 more, giving him 97 in 33 games . . . had steals in his last 25 regular-season games and 39 of his last 40 . . . made NBA All-League second team, with sixth highest vote total overall . . . "Magic plays the game for his teammates," claimed Laker coach Pat Riley.

CAREER: Magic's impact on the league was felt immediately, and he capped his rookie season with a 42-point, 15-rebound, seven-assist performance in the sixth and final game of the championship series vs. Philadelphia . . . was the first NBA rookie ever to be named playoff MVP . . . his 7.7 rebounding average as a rookie was the second-highest in NBA history for a guard, at that time . . . owns numerous Laker rookie records including assists (563), steals (187), and field goal (.530) and free throw (.810) accuracy . . . became the third rookie in club history to score 1,000 points . . . was the first rookie to start the NBA All-Star game since Elvin Hayes in 1969 . . . unanimous member of the All-Rookie team and runner-up to Larry Bird of Boston for Rookie of the Year . . . one of three players to win NCAA and NBA titles back-to-back, joining Bill Russell and Henry Bibby . . . sophomore jinx was a painful one, when Magic suffered torn cartilage in his left knee on Nov. 18 and missed 45 games, returning on Feb. 27 . . . in retrospect, he called the injury "a blessing in disguise. It made me see that everything came fast and good and that it could easily be taken away just as fast. I see things differently now," . . . returned from the injury to average 22.4 points, nine rebounds and assists and shot 54 percent over the final 16 games . . . averaged 21.6 points over his 37 games that year, his highest average as a pro . . . had his regular-season scoring high on March 28, 1981, when he made 17 of 23 shots and totaled 41 points vs. Utah.

COLLEGE: Including Magic's senior year of high school, when Everett went 27-1 and won the state championship, his two college seasons (25-5 and 26-6) and his three years as a pro, Magic's record over the past six years is 249-87 (.741) . . . as a freshman, he led Michigan State to its first Big Ten title in 19 years, and as a sophomore he led the Spartans to the NCAA championship . . . MVP of the 1979 NCAA tournament, giving him three playoff MVP awards in the last four years . . . a consensus All-America . . . said Michigan State coach Jud Heathcote, "I'll bet in clutch shooting, when a basket had to be made, he was about 65 percent."

PERSONAL: Acquired his nickname, given by a Lansing sportswriter, after a 36-point, 18-rebound, 16-assist performance in a high school game . . . has been attending Michigan State in the off-season and is close to receiving his degree in telecommunications — he's had enough experience . . . has numerous nation-wide endorsements . . . actively involved with numerous charities, including Sickle Cell Anemia, the Landon Turner Foundation and the Special Olympics . . . is an avid softball player, and a rabid baseball fan . . . took an off-season vacation to Maui . . . funded the "Action Reading" program for 87 students in Lansing, which provided special instruction for children with reading problems.

MARK LANDSBERGER 54

Height: 6-8 Weight: 225
Position: Forward
Born: May 21, 1955
High School: Mounds View (Minnesota)
College: Arizona State '78
Residence: Manhattan Beach

Acquired from the Chicago Bulls on Feb. 14, 1980 for Oliver Mack and second-round choices in the 1980 and '81 college drafts.

1981-82: Once again, Mark proved to be one of the leading rebounders in the league per-minutes played, ranking second behind Golden State's Larry Smith in that category . . . his best game came in April vs. Denver when he scored a season-high 17 points and equaled his season high with 14 rebounds in a 153-128 Laker victory . . . when Abdul-Jabbar suffered a sprained ankle in March 21 game vs. Houston, Mark did an effective job shutting down Moses Malone in the second half while scoring six points and grabbing 10 rebounds . . . one of the few players in the NBA to have more rebounds than points for their career . . . has averaged more than five rebounds a game since joining the Lakers . . . made his first start as Laker on Jan. 15 at Indiana, grabbing five rebounds . . . his field goal pct. dipped to .438 last year, after shooting .497 over his first four years in the league . . . Lakers were 11-1 in games in which he grabbed 10 or more rebounds . . . had seven offensive rebounds on two occasions . . . not known for his free-throw shooting, Mark made 14 of his last 22 (.636) attempts during the regular season to raise his percentage from .404 to .508 . . . made 18 of 34 shots from the floor in April, a .529 percentage . . . had 15 rebounds in 31 minutes of action in championship series vs. Philadelphia.
CAREER: Mark has been a major contributor off the bench on two Laker championship teams . . . was a second-round choice of the Chicago Bulls in the 1977 college draft . . . established himself as one of the better rebounding forwards in the league in his second season, when he had the seventh-leading average of offensive rebounds . . . established two Chicago records that year for most offensive rebounds (15) in a game and a half (8) . . . career bests are 25 points and 29 rebounds, both set while with the Bulls against Detroit . . . has started 76 games in his NBA career, 75 with Chicago . . . missed 13 games early in the 1980-81 season with a severely sprained ankle . . . Mark, a free-agent after last year, turned down an offer to play in Italy this year, prompting general manager Jerry West to say, "We didn't want to change our ball club very much. It's important we have Mark because of his experience and rebounding."
COLLEGE: Mark played at three colleges in three years, starting at Hancock JC before joining fellow NBAers Mark Olberding and Mychal Thompson at Minnesota . . . he then transferred to Arizona State, where he set a school record by averaging 14.4 rebounds per game, and also scored 17.2 a game . . . was an alternate selection on the 1976 U.S. Olympic team.
PERSONAL: Mark married the former Marianne Lenz following the 1980-81 season . . . stayed in town during the off-season, playing in several summer leagues . . . enjoys his soap operas, expecially All My Children . . . participated in the NBA arm-wrestling tournament in Las Vegas during the summer . . . hobbies include fishing, golfing, backgammon, raising tropical fish and playing pin-ball.

Position: Guard
Born: July 29, 1959
High School: Omaha North (Nebraska)
College: Michigan '81
Residence: Detroit

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (19th overall) of the 1981 college draft

1981-82: Although Mike saw limited playing time, the coaching staff has not wavered on his potential . . . "He's in deep competition here," said Riley. "It's nothing that Mike's not doing. He works harder than anyone. He's going to play a lot. I have no fear about putting him in the game." . . . Mike showed what he is capable of on Dec. 27 vs. San Diego when, in 25 minutes, he scored 27 points, 14 in the fourth quarter and 21 in the second half . . . he made 9 of 11 from the floor and 9 of 12 from the line in becoming the first non-starter in more than four years (345 games) to lead the team in scoring . . . made 50 percent (15 of 30) of his shots from the floor and averaged 5.7 points per game over the last month of the season . . . made 53 percent of his shots during the first half of the season . . . made 65 percent and averaged 12 points per game vs. San Diego . . . averaged 6.3 points per game and shot 60 percent vs. the Pacific Division . . . had six points (3-for-3) in Game Two of championship series vs. Philadelphia . . . signed a four-year contract with the Lakers on Aug. 5, 1981 . . . fractured his ankle in April, 1981 and the cast did not come off until July, forcing him out of the California Summer Pro League . . . played in the league this past summer and the team experimented with him at point guard.

COLLEGE: One of the greatest players in Big Ten history . . . shattered Mychal Thompson's all-time Big Ten scoring record with 1,503 points in league games, and erased Rick Mount's all-time standard for all games with 2,439 points . . . named to the All-Big Ten team five years along with Magic Johnson . . . in addition to holding Wolverine career mark for total points, he also set career records for games started (112) and field goals made (1,010) and set a single-season mark for field goals made with 309 in 1980-81 . . . finished his college career as the 21st leading scorer in NCAA Division I history . . . scored in double figures in 111 of 114 college games and scored 30 or more 13 times . . . had 38 points vs. Northwestern as a freshman and 37 vs. Ohio State as a senior . . . set a single-game record with 33 points in the post-season Aloha Classic and was named to the all-tournament team . . . Michigan's MVP as a junior and senior . . . All-Big 10 as a freshman and senior and second team as a sophomore and junior.

PERSONAL: A high school All-America, he averaged 38 points, 15 rebounds and five assists as a senior . . . holds the Nebraska single-game prep scoring record of 54 points . . . has two sisters . . . enjoys playing pool and video games . . . born in Tyler, Texas, where he lived for six years.

NORM NIXON 10

Height: 6-2 Weight: 175
Position: Guard
Born: October 11, 1955
High School: Southwest (Georgia)
College: Duquesne '77
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (22nd overall) of the 1977 college draft.

1981-82: Norm is coming off his finest pro season, and is finally getting the recognition he deserves as, perhaps, the best point guard in the game . . . averaged 17.6 points per game, matching his career best, and finished with 1,440 points, just six shy of his another best . . . averaged eight assists a game and finished with 652, his second-highest total . . . Norm became the first guard in Laker history to total more than 500 assists for five consecutive seasons and is the only guard in the league to finish in the top four in assists in each of the past five years . . . tied Nate Archibald for fourth, finishing behind Johnny Moore, Magic Johnson and Maurice Cheeks . . . Norm has had more than 600 assists in four of his five pro seasons . . . the only guards to have had more than four 600 assists seasons are Oscar Robertson (10), Lenny Wilkins (6) and Guy Rodgers and Archibald (5 each) . . . scored 14 points in his first All-Star Game, selected by the Western Conference coaches . . . he and Magic Johnson became the first backcourt tandem in NBA history to each have over 600 assists and average 8.0 per game . . . made 38 consecutive free throws between Jan. 10 and Feb. 7, falling five short of the club record set by Gail Goodrich during the 1972-73 season . . . led the team in scoring on eight occasions and the Lakers won seven of those games . . . had a string of 12 wins in which he was the Lakers' leading scorer snapped in a 119-113 loss in Philadelphia on March 7 . . . led the Lakers in minutes played (3,024), averaging nearly 37 minutes a game . . . he and Jamaal Wilkes were the only Lakers to start all 82 games . . . scored in double figures in 75 games and had 10 or more assists 24 times . . . scored 20 or more points 32 times, with a season-high of 28 vs New Jersey on Jan. 20 . . . in that game, Norm had 20 points at halftime on eight-of-eight shooting from the floor and four-of-four from the line, and made his first 11 shots. He had 28 points after three quarters of that game, but failed to score in the fourth quarter . . . had 27 points twice vs. Portland and two more 26-point efforts . . . had two 16-assist games . . . made .507 percent of his shots over the first 41 games and made 51 percent over the final 24 contests . . . at the end of February he was shooting 84 percent from the foul line before tailing off . . . has started the last 399 games in which he has played, an on-going NBA record . . . during the playoffs, one San Antonio paper ran a story headlined: "One thing perfectly clear: Stop Nixon" . . . said Spurs' coach Stan Albeck in that article, "Norman Nixon has just dominated our point guards. We can't let him explode . . . like he's been doing." . . . Nixon was the Lakers' leading scorer in the playoffs, averaging 20.4 and getting one more point than Abdul-Jabbar . . . his 31 points in the first game vs. San Antonio of the Western Conference finals is a career single-game high, regular or post-season, and his 26.3 average for the four-game series was higher than his single-game playoff high (26) before the series.

CAREER: Norm moved past Gail Goodrich into third place on the Lakers' all-time assists chart . . . became the second player in Laker history (Magic Johnson became the third last year) to have more than 700 assists in a season, doing it in his second pro campaign, Jerry West was the first . . . played in every game in three of his five seasons and led the league in minutes played in 1979-80 . . . became the first Laker ever to make a three-point goal vs. Seattle in October, 1979 . . . in 1978-79 Norm shot .542 from the floor to lead all guards, the second-highest ever behind George Gervin's .548 in 1976-77 . . . though Norm was the Lakers' third first-round selection in 1977 he moved into the starting lineup within his first week at training camp and hasn't been displaced since . . . was an All-Rookie selection and set a Laker rookie record, since broken by Johnson, with 553 assists . . . was the Lakers first rookie since Jerry West to score 1,000 points . . . Norm scored 17 points in the third quarter of a game vs. Cleveland in 1980-81, at one point scoring 15 consecutive Laker points, and finished the game with 25 points . . . his regular-season scoring high is 30 points, which he has reached on three occasions.

COLLEGE: Norm was co-captain his senior year at Duquesne and scored 661 points that year, one shy of the school record . . . holds the school's career assist record (557) and set single-season marks in his freshman, junior and senior years . . . averaged 17.4 points during his college career.
PERSONAL: Norm spends a lot of time with children during the off-season, both at his camps and in his work with under-privileged youths . . . stays in shape by swimming, playing racquetball and lifting weights . . . an avid boxing fan.

KURT RAMBIS 31

Height: 6-8 Weight: 220
Position: Forward
Born: February 25, 1958
High School: Cupertino (California)
College: Santa Clara '80
Residence: Cupertino

Signed as free agent with the Lakers on Sept. 21, 1981

1981-82: As far as Kurt was concerned, the pro basketball world was Greek to him — until last year . . . came to training camp as long shot to even make the team and wound up as a starter on the NBA champions . . . when Mitch Kupchak was injured in December, coach Pat Riley opened up the power forward position and Kurt took over in January . . . made his first start in Kansas City on Jan. 17 and started 43 of the final 45 games . . . was one of only five free agents to make an NBA team last year . . . earned his starting berth with a 14-rebound effort in 25 minutes vs. Indiana, shutting down the Pacers' Herb Williams in the process . . . as a starter, Kurt averaged 21.5 minutes, 5.9 points, 6.2 rebounds and shot .542 from the floor . . . a 65 percent free throw shooter in college, Kurt's accuracy dipped to .504 last year . . . averaged 1.5 blocked shots as a starter and his total of 76 was second on the team to Abdul-Jabbar . . . scored in double figures 11 times, with a season high 16 on March 7 vs. Philadelphia . . . also had 11 games with double figures in rebounds, with a high of 17 vs Cleveland on Feb. 28 . . . top performances included a nine-point, 16-rebound showing vs. Detroit on Jan. 22, 12 points and 17 rebounds (eight offensive) vs. Cleveland, and 10 points and 15 rebounds vs. Utah . . . had back-to-back double-figure scoring games twice, and had three games with 10 or more points once . . . led the Lakers in rebounding nine times, and in blocked shots 18 times . . . played a season-high 39 minutes vs. New York on March 4 . . . his 5.4 rebounding average ranked third on the team . . . oddly, Kurt shot .598 on the road, but only .468 at home . . . finished the year by sinking 34 of 56 free throws (.607) . . was 60-of-108 from the field during March and April, a .556 percentage . . . Kurt averaged 7.8 points in NBA finals vs. Philadelphia.

CAREER: Kurt was drafted by New York on the third round of the 1980 college draft . . . the Knicks released him during training camp that year, re-signed him to a 10-day contract in December, then released him again before he got into a game . . . went to Athens, Greece and played for the "AEK" team . . . in order to play in that league, Kurt had to have some Greek heritage, which he does . . . spent four months in Greece and played approximately 20 games, with his team winning a 20-team tournament . . . Kurt's thoughts on the style of play in Greece: "The Greeks let Americans get roughed up over there. It's a rough game. I like a good rough game."

COLLEGE: Kurt established career marks at Santa Clara with 1,725 points and 686 field goals and finished second behind Dennis Awtrey with 1,035 rebounds . . . West Coast Athletic Conference Player of the Year in 1980 . . . has his best rebounding year as a freshman, averaging more than 12 a game to rank with the national leaders . . . averaged 14.9 points a game as a freshman and blocked 10 shots in one game to earn Northern California and WCAC Freshman of the Year honors, as well as All-WCAC first team . . . posted best marks of 19.6 points per game and .534 field goal accuracy as a senior . . . averaged 16 points, 9.6 rebounds and had a .521 shooting percentage over his college career . . . had a career-best 33 points vs. the University of Portland . . . scored in double figures in his final 33 college games and hit 50 percent of his shots or better in each of those games.

PERSONAL: Kurt graduated with a B.S. in psychology and hopes to pursue a career in child counseling when his playing days are through . . . Kurt's hobbies include tennis, hanging out at the beach and body-surfing . . . he's single.

Along with their outstanding record last year the Lakers had excellent attendance as well. The club finished third in the league (to Seattle and Boston), with a per game average of 14,765, which is third best in Lakers' history, surpassed only by the 1971-72 and 1972-73 seasons in which the club averaged over 16,000 both seasons. The Lakers also had 12 sellouts, four more than two years ago.

JAMAAL WILKES 52

Height: 6-6 Weight: 190
Position: Forward
Born: May 2, 1953
High School: Berkeley (California)
College: UCLA '74
Residence: Playa del Rey

Signed with the Lakers in 1977 after playing out his option with the Golden State Warriors.

1981-82: Jamaal was the Lakers' second-leading scorer, finishing 16th in the league with an average of 21.1 points per game . . . averaged 22.5 over the final 29 regular-season games, shooting 56 percent over that span . . . made better than 50 percent of his shots for the fourth consecutive year and his .525 field goal percentage equaled his showing in 1980-81, the second-best of his eight-year career . . . Jamaal and Norm Nixon were the only Lakers to start every game, and he has missed just one game over the past four seasons . . . made 50 percent or better of his shots in 12 of the final 13 regular season games . . . his 1,734 points were the second-highest total of his career . . . scored 30 or more points eight times, running his total to 22 such games with the Lakers — and the Lakers have won every one of those games . . . had a regular-season career scoring high in December when he scored 36 vs. Atlanta and, nine days later, had 34 vs. Utah . . . scored in double figures 80 times, and 20 or more on 49 occasions . . . led the team in scoring 18 times and finished third in minutes played, second in points scored and field goals made and first in field goals attempted . . . got off to his slowest start as a Laker, shooting just 39 percent from the floor during the first three weeks of the season, and did not get to 50 percent until Dec. 29, but never fell below 50 percent after that . . . shot 55 percent in games the Lakers won and 47 percent in games the Lakers lost . . . scored in double figures in each of the final 76 games, after scoring just two points in a November loss at San Antonio . . . the Lakers' third-leading scorer in the playoffs, with just six fewer points than leader Nixon . . . had 28 points in Game One of Western Conference semi-finals vs. Phoenix, and 27 in sixth and final game of championship series vs. Philadelphia . . . scored in double figures in all 14 playoff games and led or tied for team-high in scoring seven times, the most on the Lakers.

CAREER: Jamaal had his finest season as a pro in 1980-81, scoring 1,827 points and averaging 22.6 per game, 11th best in the league . . . had his best game as a pro in the sixth and deciding game of the 1980 NBA finals, pouring in 37 points . . . Magic Johnson, who scored 42 points in that game, calls Jamaal "the best quiet forward in the league." . . . has started every game he's played with the Lakers over the past three seasons . . . NBA Rooke of the Year in 1975 and second-leading scorer on Golden State's NBA champions that year . . . one of 12 players to have won NBA championships on two different times . . . a two-time member of the NBA All-Defensive team . . . was the 11th player selected in the 1974 college draft and broke into the Warriors' starting lineup after only eight games . . . has played in two All-Star games . . . dating back to his senior year in high school (13 years), Jamaal has never played on a losing team and his teams' have compiled a 602-276 (.686) record, including post-season play.

COLLEGE: Jamaal played on two undefeated NCAA champions at UCLA, where he won three varsity letters and served as co-captain as a senior . . . a three-time All-Pac 8 first team selection and twice a first-team All-America . . . former UCLA coach John Wooden, asked to define his version of the ideal basketball player, said, "I would have the player be a good student, polite, courteous, a good team player, a good defensive player and rebounder, a good inside player, outside shooter . . . why not just take Jamaal Wilkes and let it go at that."

PERSONAL: Jamaal is nicknamed "Silk" because of his fluid style of play . . . born in Berkeley, he grew up in Ventura . . . active with the March of Dimes Reading Olympics as well as the Boys Club of America . . . has conducted a summer camp for seven years . . . he and his wife, Valerie, live in scenic Playa del Rey . . . has an unusual relationship with his agent — he's represented by his sister, Naomi . . . vacationed in Majorca, Spain and Jamaica, West Indies during the off-season.

PAT RILEY VS. THE NBA . . .

Since taking over the head coaching reigns on November 19, Pat Riley compiled a 50-21 record with the Lakers. His NBA winning percentage is .704 and here's how Pat Riley has fared against the other NBA clubs in his tenure as coach of the Lakers:

Atlanta 2-0	Golden State 3-3	Philadelphia 1-1
Boston 1-1	Houston 3-0	Portland 4-0
Cleveland 2-0	Kansas City 4-1	San Antonio 2-2
Dallas 3-1	Milwaukee 0-2	San Diego 5-1
Denver 4-1	New Jersey 1-1	Seattle 3-2
Detroit 2-0	New York 0-2	Utah 4-0
		Washington 2-0

Against eight clubs (Atlanta, Cleveland, Detroit, Houston, Indiana, Portland, Utah, and Washington) Pat is undefeated, and with three teams (Chicago, Milwaukee, New York), Pat has a losing record against. He is .500 against the San Antonio Spurs and the Golden State Warriors.

Pat's 25th NBA victory: February 5, 1982 ..... 90-87 @ Washington
Pat's 50th NBA victory: April 18, 1982 ..... 120-115 @ Phoenix

JAMES WORTHY 42

Height: 6-9 Weight: 219
Position: Forward
Born: February 27, 1961
High School: Ashbrook (Gastonia, North Carolina)
College: North Carolina '83
Residence: Gastonia, North Carolina

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (1st overall) of the 1982 college draft.

For the first time in NBA history, the reigning league champions had the No. 1 pick in the college draft, and the Lakers used that selection to acquire James Worthy . . . James is the Lakers' second No. 1 pick in four years and joins Magic Johnson as the only No. 1 selections in L.A. Lakers' history . . . should the Lakers repeat as NBA champions, James would join Bill Russell, Henry Bibby and Johnson as the only players to win NCAA and NBA titles, back-to-back . . . the first North Carolina player ever selected No. 1 in the draft . . . passed up his final year of collegiate eligibility and went out in style, leading the Tar Heels to a 63-62 win over Georgetown in the NCAA Finals, earning MVP honors . . . averaged 15.6 as a junior and career averages were 14.5 points and 7.2 rebounds with a .541 shooting percentage from the floor . . . shot .587, .500 and .573 from the field at UNC . . . named to virtually every All-America team last year, including the NBA coaches team, The Sporting News, UPI, AP, National Association of Basketball Coaches and National Association of Basketball Writers . . . second-leading vote-getter (behind Virginia's Ralph Sampson) on the NBA coaches team and shared College Player of the Year honors bestowed by the First Interstate Bank Athletic Foundation with Sampson . . . UNC was 71-13 (.845) during his career . . . missed the final 14 games of his freshman season with a broken ankle . . . had a game-high 28 points (shooting 13 of 17) in last year's NCAA championship game . . . named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference first team as a sophomore and junior . . . also made the All-ACC Tournament all-star team both years, and was tournament MVP last year . . . second on the team in blocked shots all three years with 22 as a freshman, 35 as a sophomore and 37 as a junior . . . 26 assists as a freshman, 100 as a sophomore (second on the team) and 82 as a junior . . . started the first 14 as a freshman before breaking the ankle and was leading the team in blocked shots when injured . . . had a 24-point, 16-rebound, six-assist outing vs. Detroit in his fifth game as a collegian . . . said Dean Smith, "Worthy can be a dominant force because he does so many things so well. He is a great passer. He isn't just a shooter. And he may be our fastest player. I also think he can be an outstanding defensive player. At times he was the best defensive player we ever had at North Carolina." . . . said Lakers' general manager Jerry West: "Worthy fits right into our framework. He is mobile and quick and should be an excellent addition to our team." . . . James made several high school All-America teams as a junior, when he averaged 19.8 points and 12 rebounds a game, and was a unanimous prep All-America as a senior with averages of 21.5 and 12.5, respectively . . . James spent the summer in Chapel Hill attending summer school, where he is majoring in recreation . . . he would like, someday, to work in counseling with either the aged or the mentally retarded, and has spent the last two summers working with both . . . does a great imitation of Dean Smith.

The Forum, built by Jack Kent Cooke in 1967 and purchased by Jerry Buss in 1979, is one of the world's premier sports and entertainment showplaces.

Forum history highlights include, the largest live boxing gate, $475,640, in West Coast history when Muhammad Ali split decisioned Ken Norton on Sept. 10, 1973; Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in the first Forum concert in 1968; the Lakers 114-100 victory over the New York Knicks on May 7, 1972 to bring the NBA championship to Los Angeles.

Approximately 30 million people have flocked to such Forum events as world championship boxing, the Harlem Globetrotters, concerts of all shapes and dimensions, ice shows, the circus, rodeos, the champion Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, the Los Angeles Times Indoor Track & Field Games and seemingly countless other spectacular entertainment and sporting events.

More than 70 percent of seating is between the baskets or goals, and no seat is more than 170 feet from the playing surface.

The finest in dining is provided in the private Forum Club, the public Whistle Stop and at numerous concession stands.

November 14, 1981

Lakers snap a ten-game losing streak in Phoenix with a 98-97 victory, their third in a row. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores the winning point on a free throw with 1:51 to play. The win put the Lakers record at 5-4—above .500 for the first time.

November 15, 1981

The Lakers win their third game in as many days as rookie Kevin McKenna hits a key jumper in the second overtime of the 124-123 win over Indiana.

November 18, 1981

The Lakers shoot 61.8% from the field and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 27 in a 113-110 victory at Utah, the club's fifth straight win. After the game, Magic Johnson says, "the coach and I don't see eye to eye," and asks to be traded.

November 19, 1981

In an afternoon press conference, Dr. Jerry Buss relieves Paul Westhead of his coaching duties, and announces that Pat Riley and Jerry West will coach the Lakers.

November 20, 1981

In the Lakers first game under Pat Riley, the club shoots 58%, gets 30 points from Abdul-Jabbar, 25 points and 17 rebounds from Mitch Kupchak (who shoots 11-11 from the field), and 20 points, plus 16 assists from Magic Johnson, as they rout San Antonio 136-116, before a sellout crowd at the Forum.

November 23, 1981

Five nights later—this time in San Antonio—the Lakers win their ninth consecutive game, (longest win streak of the season) and again whip the Spurs, this time by a 117-96 score.

November 27, 1981

San Diego shoots 57% from the field, outrebound the Lakers 45-33, and score a club-record six three-pointers in stopping the Lakers nine-game winning streak, 138-129.

December 1, 1981

With 6:27 left in the first quarter in a game vs. Utah, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar becomes the second all-time leading scorer in NBA history, passing Oscar Robertson. The Lakers beat Utah 117-86, and hold the Jazz to just five second quarter points, one point shy of the NBA record for fewest points in a quarter.

December 2, 1981

Pat Riley is named head coach for the rest of the season by Lakers General Manager Bill Sharman. That evening, though, the Lakers drop a 104-96 decision in Seattle, snapping a ten-game win streak the Lakers had against the Sonics.

December 3, 1981

The Lakers announce the hiring of Bill Bertka as assistant coach. Bertka returns to the Lakers, where from 1968-74 he was assistant coach and Director of Player Personnel.

December 6, 1981

Jamaal Wilkes scores his 10,000th NBA point as the Lakers beat Kansas City, 119-106. The victory moved the Lakers into sole possession of first place, one game ahead of Phoenix.

December 13, 1981

Shooting 56% from the field and getting 33 from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and 26 from Magic Johnson, the Lakers win their fifth in a row, 122-118 over Golden State.

December 17, 1981

Despite leading 72-56 at halftime, a fourth quarter Golden State rally overcomes the Lakers, 120-115, snapping the Lakers winning streak. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar injures an ankle in the fourth quarter, which causes him to miss the next six games.

December 19, 1981

With 10:37 left in the second quarter in a game at San Diego, Mitch Kupchak injures his left knee. The injury is later diagnosed as a fracture in a bone below the left knee, torn cartilage and a torn ligament. He is lost to the team for the rest of the regular season. The Lakers beat the Clippers 106-100, behind Jamaal Wilkes 33 points.

December 20, 1981

Jamaal Wilkes scores a career high 36, Mike Cooper a career high 26 and Jim Brewer—starting at center—a season high 15 rebounds as the Lakers whip Atlanta, 112-94, their seventh win in the past eight games.

December 24, 1981

The Lakers acquire Bob McAdoo from New Jersey in exchange for a 1983 second round draft pick and undisclosed amount of cash.

December 25, 1981

With Kareem Abdul-Jabbar still ailing, Michael Cooper scores a career high 30 points—the fourth consecutive game he has broken his own scoring record—, Jim Brewer again grabs 15 rebounds and the Lakers win in Phoenix 104-101, before a nationwide television audience.

December 27, 1981

The Lakers win their fifth in a row, 139-117 over San Diego as rookie Mike McGee comes off the bench to score 27, 13 in the fourth quarter.

December 29, 1981

Los Angeles closes out 1981 with a 121-114 win over Utah—their sixth straight victory—and they open up a four game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division. Jamaal Wilkes leads the Lakers with 34 points.

January 3, 1982

The Lakers host Seattle—the team they lead by five games in the Pacific Division. Despite a 71-64 lead in the third quarter, LA shoots 8-40 from the field over the final 15 minutes and lose, 110-90, their worst home court loss in four years.

January 8, 1982

Michael Cooper injures an ankle as the Lakers start a seven game midwest road trip with a 119-113 loss in Chicago. Mike would miss the next four games as well.

January 9, 1982

Magic Johnson scores a season high 40 points—19 in the first quarter—plus ten rebounds and nine assists, and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar adds 31 as the Lakers beat Detroit, 130-127.

January 15, 1982

The Lakers rally from a 39-18 second quarter deficit—behind Abdul-Jabbar's 30 points—and 14 rebounds from Kurt Rambis and 15 rebounds from Magic Johnson to beat Indiana 97-92. With the victory head coach Pat Riley becomes coach of the Western Conference All-Star Team.

January 17, 1982

Free agent rookie Kurt Rambis makes his first start of the season at power forward—he gets nine rebounds—and Magic Johnson scores 29 points and gets nine assists, to lead LA to a 109-97 win over Kansas City, their ninth straight win over the Kings.

January 19, 1982

The Lakers fourth-quarter rally falls short and the Lakers wind up a two-week road trip with a 140-139 loss in Denver. Abdul-Jabbar, Cooper, and Magic each tally 22.

January 22, 1982

Kurt Rambis grabs a career high 16 rebounds, and Magic Johnson scores 26 plus gets 16 rebounds himself as the Lakers—with an NBA season high 67 rebounds—rout Detroit 123-111.

January 28, 1982

As the Lakers break for the NBA All-Star game, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 31, Norm Nixon 22 and LA shoots 56% in a 97-87 win over Phoenix. At the midpoint of the season, LA leads Seattle by 1½ in the Pacific Division.

January 31, 1982

Pat Riley and Bill Bertka coach the Western Conference All-Star team, and the Lakers are well represented with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Norm Nixon, and Magic Johnson, but Larry Bird leads the East to a 120-118 victory.

February 3, 1982

Scoring just three points the final six minutes of the game, the Lakers drop a 98-94 decision to the Knicks, their second straight loss since the All-Star game. The loss allowed Seattle to move into first place in the Pacific Division by .009 percentage points, the first time since December 6, the Lakers had not been in first place.

February 7, 1982

With Magic Johnson unable to play because of an ankle injury, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 35 points and Mike Cooper a career high 31, as the Lakers rally from a 20-point third quarter deficit, to catch the Celtics 119-113 in Boston Gardens.

February 12, 1982

Shooting a season low 36%, the Lakers score just nine third quarter points and drop their second straight game, 100-94 to San Antonio.

February 14, 1982

One week later, Boston comes from behind in the fourth quarter and defeats LA at the Forum, 108-103.

February 16, 1982

With first place in the Pacific Division at stake, the Lakers snap a three-game losing streak with a 108-101 win over Seattle as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar tallies 26 and Norm Nixon adds 22.

February 21, 1982

Jamaal Wilkes scores a three-point play with 27 seconds to play as the Lakers win their third in a row 132-131 in Denver.

February 23, 1982

Two nights later, the Lakers pass out a club-record 51 assists, shoot 57% from the field and romp past Denver again, 145-129. Wilkes scores 31 points to lead the Lakers, the 20th 30-point game of his five year Lakers career.

February 25, 1982

The Lakers rally from a seven-point deficit in the final five minutes and beat the Sonics in Seattle, 104-98 as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 31, 23 in the second half. The win is marred when Bob McAdoo tears a calf muscle in the 2nd qtr.

February 26, 1982

Twenty-four hours later, the Lakers run their winning streak to six games with a heart-stopping 116-114 double overtime win over Philadelphia as Abdul-Jabbar scores 41 points and grabs 19 rebounds. It was his two free throws with two seconds to play which tied the game at 99 and forced overtime.

February 28, 1982

With three seconds to play, Abdul-Jabbar scores on a sky-hook giving the Lakers a 102-101 win over Cleveland and running their winning streak to seven games

March 1, 1982

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is named NBA Player-of-the-Week for the period ending Sunday, February 28. Kareem had averaged 30 points, ten rebounds and shot 60% from the field in leading LA to four straight wins.

March 3, 1982

Playing inspired basketball and leading virtually the entire game, the New Jersey Nets stop the Lakers winning streak with a 111-103 win at the Meadowlands.

March 7, 1982

Despite a 91-83 lead after three quarters, the Lakers lose their third straight on the road 119-113 in Philadelphia.

March 9, 1982

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is ejected but the Lakers snap their losing streak as Magic Johnson leads six players in double figures with 27 points as the Lakers beat Kansas City, 105-99. It marks the Lakers 18th straight win over Kansas City at the Forum.

March 19, 1982

Bob McAdoo returns after missing ten games, the Lakers complete a perfect 3-0 road trip, and shoot .605 from the field in downing the Dallas Mavericks, 112-106. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads with 23 and Jamaal Wilkes adds 22.

March 21, 1982

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar injures an ankle in the second quarter and does not return, but Magic Johnson (25 points, 16 rebounds, seven assists, six steals) sparks the Lakers to their fifth straight win, 107-102 over Houston. In the game Magic grabs 13 offensive rebounds, a new Lakers single-game record.

March 23, 1982

Despite 32 points from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 22 points from Jamaal Wilkes and 11 points, ten rebounds and 14 assists from Magic Johnson, the Dallas Mavericks stun the Lakers 118-116—the first time in two years Dallas had defeated LA.

March 28, 1982

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar plays in his 1,000th NBA game and Bob McAdoo tallies 30 points for the first time in over two years, as the Lakers snap a two-game losing streak with a 116-111 win in KC.

March 30, 1982

The Lakers whip San Diego 143-120, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 29 points and Jamaal Wilkes 28. However, the game is marred as both Michael Cooper (groin) and Eddie Jordan (leg) are injured.

March 31, 1982

Eddie Jordan is lost to the team for at least the remainder of the regular season as doctors discover a chipped bone at the tip of the fibula below his left knee. His leg is placed in a cast for one week.

April 3, 1982

The Lakers sign guard Clay Johnson — from Billings of the CBA — to a 10-day contract. He had been released by the Lakers in October during training camp.

April 9, 1982

The Lakers leading 75-64 at halftime, make their first 16 field goal attempts of the third quarter and go on to a record-setting 153-128 win over Denver, running up their third highest point total in history. Jamaal Wilkes leads eight Lakers in double figures.

April 11, 1982

Bob McAdoo sinks two free throws with eight seconds to play and the Los Angeles Lakers win the 1981-82 Pacific Division Championship with a 107-104 victory over second-place Seattle.

April 18, 1982

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 34 and Jamaal Wilkes 31 (the 22nd 30-point game of his five-year Lakers career), as the Lakers close the regular season with a 120-115 win over the Phoenix Suns, their seventh win in the last eight games, and finish the 1981-82 season with a 57-25 record.

April 27, 1982

After a nine-day lay-off, the Lakers open their post-season with a 115-96 triumph over Phoenix, making eight consecutive shots in the first quarter and 15 of 17 during that stretch. Jamaal Wilkes leads all scorers with 28 points.

April 28, 1982

The Lakers reel off another 19-point victory over Phoenix, 117-98, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 24 points and Magic Johnson gets his second triple-double in as many nights.

April 30, 1982

Jamaal Wilkes pours in 26 points as the Lakers take a 3-0 lead over Phoenix with a 114-106 triumph.

May 2, 1982

The Lakers complete a four-game sweep with a 112-107 victory over Phoenix, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Jamaal Wilkes each score 24 points and Magic Johnson gets his third triple-double in the series.

May 9, 1982

After taking another week off, the Lakers open the Western Conference finals with a 128-117 decision over San Antonio, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads the way with 32 points and 10 rebounds and Norm Nixon adds a career-high 31. Magic Johnson (13 points, 16 rebounds and 14 assists) make it four triple-coubles in five games and Bob McAdoo contributes 21 points off the bench.

The Lakers won over 50 games for the third consecutive season (the first time in club history that has ever happened) and their 55-27 mark was the fourth best ever, bettered only by a 69-13 mark in 1971-72 and 60-22 records in 1972-73 and 1979-80 . . . It was the team's sixth consecutive winning season — one shy of the club record of seven straight, set from 1967-68 through 1973-74 — and also the Lakers sixth straight trip to the playoffs, a statement only the Philadelphia 76ers can equal.

As in other successful seasons, the Lakers played very well on the road. Los Angeles was 27-14 on the road last year, second best in the NBA and the third best road record in Lakers history. The 1971-72 team won 31 road games and the 1972-73 team won 28. The Lakers also had a six game road winning streak which was the third longest in history and the longest since the 1972-73 team won 13 in a row.

★NBA Record
*NBA Leader

If the 1981-82 season could be characterized it might be, "a great start and a great finish," that led the Lakers to their outstanding record. Although the club was 2-4 at one point (November 10) — the team then won 22 of the next 25 games — and had a 24-7 record at that point and a five game lead over Seattle. And then from March 14 until the season ended the club finished strong with 15 wins in their final 19 games.

The Lakers finished second in the league in offense last year at 114.6 points per game, while ranking 15th defensively at 109.8. The Lakers finished third in shooting at .517, which is the third best single-season mark in club history, but LA — nor any other team — did not threaten their own league record of .529, which came during 1979-80. The Lakers led the league in assists with an average of 28.7 per game, ranked second to San Antonio in rebounding at (45.9), and third in steals at 10.3 per game. Although the Lakers made the second most field goals in the league, they also made the second fewest free throws and their .717 team free throw accuracy was last in the league. By contrast, though, opponents against the Lakers shot just .714 from the foul line, which also was the lowest percentage in the NBA. The Lakers committed the second fewest personal fouls in the league and lost just 11 players on six personal fouls, second fewest to Houston, which had only nine disqualifications during the season. The Lakers ranked fourth in scoring differential (+4.9) behind Boston, Philadelphia and Milwaukee and ranked second in rebound differential. The Lakers held several single game NBA highs this season including field goals in a game (69), assists in a game (51), rebounds in a game (67), most blocked shots (21) and fewest rebounds in a game (22).

LAKERS TO HOST 33rd NBA ALL-STAR GAME

The Los Angeles Lakers will host the 33rd annual NBA All-Star Game on Sunday, February 13 at The Forum at 1 p.m. (PDT).

This marks the third time the Lakers have hosted the mid-season classic and, oddly, in both of the previous Los Angeles games, both of the starting guards for the West were Lakers!

In the 1963 rendition, won by the East, 115-108, Elgin Baylor, making a rare start in the backcourt, was joined by Jerry West.

The 1972 game, won by the West, 112-110, found West starting alongside Gail Goodrich. West, now the Lakers' general manager, was the Most Valuable Player in that game while Bill Sharman, now the team's president, was the winning coach.

The East captured last year's All-Star Game at the Meadowlands in East Rutherford, New Jersey, 120-118, its third consecutive triumph in the series. Kaeem Abdul-Jabbar was the starting center for the West while teammates Earvin Johnson (16 points) and Norm Nixon combined for 30 points off the bench.

LAKERS YEAR-BY-YEAR

1961 — Lakers first season in Los Angeles after 12 years in Minneapolis . . . Finish in second place in the Western Division behind St. Louis . . . Forward Elgin Baylor winds up as the second leading scorer in the NBA with 2,538 points and a 34.8 ppg. average . . . Playoffs: Defeat Detroit (3-2), but lose to St. Louis (3-4) . . .

1962 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers win the West as Jerry West pours in 2,310 points (30.8) and a part-time Elgin Baylor averages 38.3 . . . Playoffs: Baylor averages 38.6 points and West 31.5 as the Lakers defeat Detroit (4-2), but lose to Boston (3-4) in the championship series in an overtime seventh game . . . Schaus coached.

1963 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Elgin Baylor again finishes as the second leading scorer in the league with 2,719 points (34.0) as the Lakers roll to their second division title . . . Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3), but lose to Boston in the finals (2-4) . . . Schaus coached.

1964 — West (2,064 pts, 28.7 average) and Baylor (1,983 pts, 25.4 average) finish as the fifth and sixth leading scorers in the league, but Lakers finish in third place behind San Francisco and St. Louis . . . Playoffs: Lose to St. Louis (2-3) in first round . . . Schaus coached.

1965 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . West paces the Lakers with 31.0 ppg.—second best in the league . . . Playoffs: Lakers beat Baltimore (4-2) in the division finals despite the absence of the injured Elgin Baylor . . . Lose to Boston (1-4) in the championship. Jerry West has a record-breaking playoff, scoring an incredible 447 points for a 40.6 average in the 11 games played . . . Schaus coached.

1966 — Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg . . . West again finishes as the league's second best scorer, averaging 31.3 ppg . . . Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93 . . . Schaus coached.

1967 — Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round . . . Schaus coached.

1968 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season . . . Baylor leads the team in scoring (26.0), rebounding (941) and assists (355) . . . Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1969 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers start slowly, but compile nine-game win streak in November that puts them in first place for the rest of the season . . . New Laker Wilt Chamberlain leads league in rebounds (21.1) and field goal percentage (.583) . . . Playoffs: Lakers lose first two playoff games but come back to beat San Francisco (4-2), then overwhelm Atlanta (4-1) . . . Lose to Boston (3-4) in seven games, the last game a 108-106 heartbreaker in Los Angeles . . . Van Breda Kolff coached.

1970 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Injury jinx again hits Lakers as Wilt Chamberlain tears knee ligaments and is lost to team for regular season. Lakers finish in second place in division . . . Playoffs: Wilt Chamberlain back, Lakers defeat Phoenix (4-3) and Atlanta (4-0), but run out of miracles in the final series against New York, bowing to the Knicks and a hobbling Willis Reed in seven games (3-4) . . . Joe Mullaney coached.

1971 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers finish a strong seven games ahead of San Francisco for the division crown, despite Baylor missing all but two games in the regular season. Scoring slack was taken up by Chamberlain (20.7), Happy Hairston (18.6) and Gail Goodrich (17.5) . . . Playoffs: Both Baylor and West are not in uniform, but Lakers still manage to upset Chicago in seven games (4-3) in the opening round . . . Team fails to eventual World Champion Milwaukee Bucks in five games (1-4) . . . Mullaney coached.

1972 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers set record as winningest team in the history of the NBA with 69 wins, and also compile a 33-game win streak — the longest streak in all professional sports, as they finish in first place in the Pacific Division by an amazing 18 games . . . Goodrich averages 25.9 points and West hands out a league-leading 747 assists . . . Playoffs: Lakers roll over Chicago (4-0) and eliminate Milwaukee (4-2) to win the Western Division . . . Los Angeles spots New York a one game lead in the finals, but then rolls to four straight wins to gain the World Championship (4-1). In the final game Wilt Chamberlain hauls down 29 rebounds and scores 24 points as the Lakers win 114-100 . . . Bill Sharman is voted Coach-of-the-Year.

1973 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS . . . Wilt Chamberlain becomes the first player in NBA history to shoot over 70% from the field (.727) and the Lakers have the second best record in the club's history, winning 60 and losing only 22 . . . Playoffs: Lakers down Chicago (4-3) and Golden State (4-1) to again face New York for the championship. Lakers win the first game, but Knicks' pressure defense causes Los Angeles to average 19 turnovers per game and New York wins the next four and the title (1-4) . . . Sharman coached.

1974 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers stage a tremendous comeback in the last seven games of the season to erase Golden State's three game lead and win the crown. Their accomplishment was even more remarkable considering that they did it without last year's stalwarts, Wilt Chamberlain and Jim McMillan, and with West sidelined for 51 games . . . Playoffs: Lose to Milwaukee in opening round (1-4) . . . Sharman coached.

1975 — Jerry West retires . . . Cazzie Russell injures his knee and is out for the balance of the season, and the Lakers miss the NBA playoffs for the first time in 14 seasons . . . High points of the year include Gail Goodrich's 53 points against Kansas City-Omaha and Happy Hairston's 14 rebounds in one quarter against Philadelphia . . . Sharman coached.

1976 — New Laker Kareem-Abdul Jabbar becomes the first Laker in either Minneapolis or Los Angeles to win the League MVP award, the fourth time in his seven-year career that he has received that honor. In one of the most convincing displays of basketball dominance, Abdul-Jabbar leads the league in rebounds, blocked shots, minutes played, is second in scoring, fifth in shooting, and second on the Lakers in steals and assists. However, Lakers are totally unable to win on the road (9-32) and are edged out of the playoffs by losing the last two games of the season at Portland and Phoenix . . . Sharman coached.

1977 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS . . Former Laker great, Jerry West, returns to the team as head coach, and in his rookie season guides the Lakers to the best record in the NBA—53-29—and the Pacific Division title . . . In the process, Lakers set an NBA record with 37 home wins and a Laker team record with 21 consecutive home victories . . . Center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second straight NBA Most Valuable Player award, the fifth time in his eight year career that he has earned such honors. Playoffs: Lakers defeat Golden State in seven games (4-3) as Abdul-Jabbar averages 37 points, 16.7 rebounds, and shoots .607 from the field. In the Western Conference finals, Lakers are unable to contain Portland's quick guards and are swept, 0-4.

1978 — Five Laker players suffer broken bones in the first half of the season including center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who breaks his hand in the first two minutes of the opening game of the year when he punches Milwaukee center Kent Benson in retaliation for a thrown elbow . . . In addition, forward Kermit Washington is fined $10,000 and suspended 60 days for punching Houston forward Rudy Tomjanovich . . In the second half of the season, with most of the players healthy, Lakers roll to a 28-13 mark, second best in the league . . For the season Lakers shoot .487 from the field, second best in the history of the franchise. Playoffs: Laker guards are pressured into shooting a combined .363 (37-102) from the field as team loses to Seattle, 1-2, in the first round.

1979 — West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year . . . Bullets and Sonics are strongest NBA teams, having reached finals two years in a row. Lakers are using small forwards, Jamaal Wilkes and Adrian Dantley . . . In summer prior to 1980 season, Cooke sells his California Sports Inc. empire (Lakers, Kings, Forum and a ranch) to Santa Monica real estate developer Jerry Buss for $67.5 million . . . Buss hires Jack McKinney to be head coach and Paul Westhead from LaSalle as assistant.

1980 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA . . . Abdul-Jabbar is MVP . . Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award. Westhead is then given a new four-year contract by Buss and McKinney signs to coach Indiana Pacers . . . Pat Riley, lured from broadcasting booth where he was Hearn's color man, is new assistant coach.

1981 — Lakers open season with five consecutive wins, their best start ever in Los Angeles . . . On November 18, Magic Johnson, in a game against Kansas City, suffers a torn cartilage in his left knee and is out for the next 45 games . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, plays brilliantly in his absence, at one point scoring 22 or more points in 33 consecutive games . . Lakers record a 28-17 mark without Magic . . . Head coach Paul Westhead wins his 100th NBA game, March 17 vs. Dallas, becoming fifth fastest in league history to do so . . . Los Angeles finishes second in the Pacific Division to Phoenix with a 54-28 record. Playoffs: Despite the home-court advantage, Lakers stunned in opening mini-series by Houston 2-1. Rockets advance to NBA Finals, before losing to Boston in six games.

1982 — WORLD CHAMPIONS . . . Lakers got off to a slow start and Paul Westhead is fired on November 19, record is 7-4 . . . Pat Riley takes over and the Lakers win 17 of next 20 games and stand 24-7 and open up a five game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division . . Mitch Kupchak injures his knee on December 19 and is lost for year . . . Lakers sign free agent Bob McAdoo on December 24 and compensate New Jersey with a draft pick . . . Kurt Rambis emerges as Kupchak's replacement on a January road trip to the mid-west . . . Lakers finish strong, winning 15 of final 19 games and their record of 57-25 is third best in NBA . . Lakers sweep Phoenix and San Antonio 4-0 to reach NBA Finals, becoming first NBA club ever to record back-to-back series sweeps and win first game of NBA Finals vs. Philadelphia to set NBA record for most consecutive playoff wins . . Lakers win second NBA World Championship in three years with a 114-104 win over 76ers in sixth game . . . Magic Johnson again wins MVP with a steady, 'blue-collar' performance which included 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists in title game . . McAdoo plays key role throughout playoffs and gets his first World Championship ring . .

As a team, the Lakers were pretty consistent with their shooting. They shot over 50% every month of last season (except for October which consisted of just one game) and as a team shot .530 from the field the last two months (24 games) of the season. The club shot .531 as a team in March, and .529 in both April and November. And talk about splitting hairs . . in games 1-41 the Lakers were 1960-3794 from the field, a ratio of .517 and in games 42-84 the team made 1959-3791 field goal attempts, again a ratio of .517! The Lakers averaged 118.7 points over the final ten games of the season and had a season scoring high of 153 points and had 11 games in excess of 130 points scored. The Lakers shot above 50% against 12 other teams in the league and above 49% against four more.

Right now, you need a car that does more than just look good. It needs to have an efficient shape too. Like the new Celica GT Liftback. Now that's the right stuff!

Engineers say it's right. Celica's shape is so aerodynamically slippery it cheats the wind. Celica actually has a lower coefficient of drag — just 0.342 — than the Porsche 928!

And the right shape, plus Celica's high-torque 2.4 liter single overhead cam engine, equals the right performance.

Experts say it's right.

As Motor Trend noted, "Celica's shape is clean and highly contemporary — strong angularity diluted with just a little organic roundness."

Celica GT-S: the right stuff, plus....

Add the optional S package to a Celica Liftback and you've got the stuff dreams are made of! Super-wide 225/60 HR14 steel-belted radial tires on 7-inch wide alloy wheels. Wide fender flares. Rack and pinion steering. And inside, custom-adjustable sports seats, even map pockets on both doors!
